

¿VOLVERSE O QUEDARSE? WHICH VERB SHOULD YOU USE IN SPANISH?

Moods in Spanish have many ways of expressing themselves. Not only in adjectives, as it is the first thing that comes to mind when talking about the subject, but also in verbs.

Some verbs express states of emotion, periods of emotion, changes of emotion, and even moments of change of emotion. Or there are even verbs that express exactly the same thing and prefer some adjectives to others, which is what we call collocations.

Volverse (becoming) is used for changes in personality and staying for spontaneous changes in states of mind. Complete using one of these verbs suitably conjugated.

-Cuando le dieron la noticia, Pedro _____ de piedra.

-Desde que sale con Laura, Andrés _____ más cariñoso con la gente.

-El otro día me enteré de la noticia y _____ helado.

-Pedro ya no habla con nadie, _____ un poco introvertido.

-Cuando vi aquella chica tan guapa, _____ sorprendido

Spanish in action

