

PARKS: LEARN ADJECTIVES IN SPANISH

When it comes to parks, an excellent practice to learn Spanish is to constantly name everything you see around you. Everything.

And if you can go further, don't just name them, also describe them with adjectives.

Start today with a park, which is a place you probably visit frequently.

Find the odd man out:

- Plantas (plants), árabes (Arabs), bancos (benches)...
- Río (river), plaza (square), lago (lake)...
- Farola (streetlamp), camino (path), calle (street)...
- Jardín (garden), banco (bench), estatua (statue)...
- Palomas (pigeons), patos (ducks), ardillas (squirrels)...

Spanish in action

